CLINICAL REFERRAL PROFILE FOR PHYSICIANS & CARE TEAMS

Board Certified and New Jersey Licensed Behavior Analyst with more than 22 years of experience supporting infants and children with autism and developmental disabilities, as well as their families. Specializes in complex cases where progress has stalled or the underlying barriers remain unclear. Integrates Applied Behavior Analysis with developmental, relationship-based, and DIRFloortime-informed principles to address regulation, engagement, communication, flexibility, behavior, and learning.

CONSIDER REFERRAL WHEN A CHILD:

- Has limited, inconsistent, or plateaued progress despite current services.
- Struggles with regulation, attention, engagement, communication, flexibility, or learning.
- Presents with complex behavior requiring functional assessment and integrated case formulation.
- Needs coordinated strategies across home, school, ABA, speech, and occupational therapy.
- Would benefit from parent coaching, therapist consultation, or a focused program review.

CLINICAL SERVICES & COLLABORATION

- Developmental and behavioral consultation, assessment, and case formulation.
- Individualized treatment planning integrating ABA and developmental principles.
- Functional Behavior Assessment (FBA) and Behavior Intervention Planning (BIP).
- Parent coaching, therapist mentoring, and clinical supervision.
- Classroom consultation, interdisciplinary coordination, and progress monitoring.

- Extensive experience coaching parents, mentoring therapists, and coordinating multidisciplinary teams.
- Translates assessment findings into practical recommendations for consistent use across home, school, and therapy.

CLINICAL APPROACH

Lasting progress often begins by strengthening the developmental foundations that make a child available for learning. This approach combines behavior-analytic methods with developmental and relationship-based principles to clarify what is blocking progress, then provides practical, individualized strategies that can be used consistently across home, school, and therapy.
